I was considering placing a menu bar that would be categorized by movies, tv shows and other media. When a user would click on ‘movies’, they would see suggestions on different movies, popular posts and staff picks. I wanted to give the users a place to start.

Instead of the menu bar, I tried to incorporate these aspects into the feed. I incorporated the following sections shown on the right:

- 1 Recommended
- 2 Trending
- 3 Staff Picks

Filter Section

I put in an expandable filter section where users could select which media they preferred along with other options. Inside the filter, I included a section for popular tags to give users a starting ground.
